

GROW A CULTURE WHERE PEOPLE LOVE TO WORK WITH TILT'S FRESH, RELEVANT PERSONALITY AND TEAM ASSESSMENTS.

END EGO-DRAMA

Good, honest conflict that is resolved quickly is good for innovation. On the other hand, chronic patterns that trigger dysfunction come from unconscious self-esteem issues produce exhausting drama, politics and are counterproductive. Knowing the difference is crucial to keeping teams productive and creative.

INCREASE INNOVATION

Tilt assessments increase self-awareness about the root cause of unconscious behaviors and gets at the root of chronic patterns. Tilt helps people understand how to create a climate of responsibility where people love to work because they can focus on the work, instead of ego-politics.
